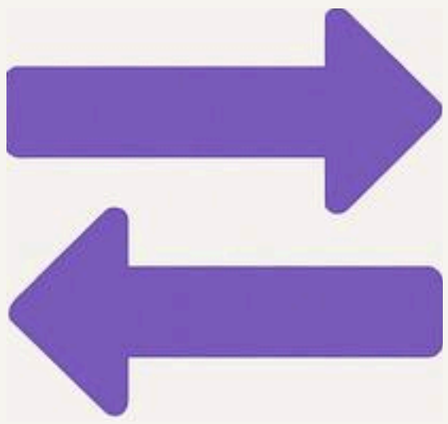
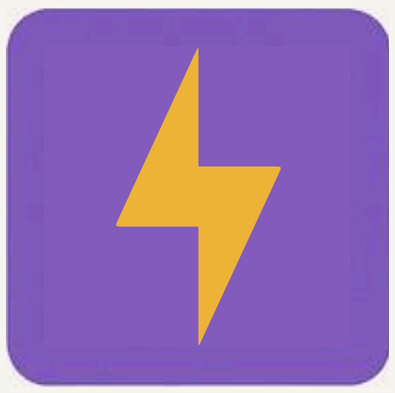
Design Principles



Design for natural developer flow

Start simple, reveal complexity gradually

Make everything feel like one product



Make every interaction feel instant

Show what's happening and why

Build for teams, not just individuals

Always provide a clear next step

Enable customization within guardrails

Design for scale and compliance, always

Make it a joy to use